INTRODUCTION

We are excited to show the EWS North American series racers what mountain biking in New Jersey is all about. When most people think about New Jersey they typically only think about what they see on reality TV or what they see driving along the turnpike. There is a whole other side to New Jersey that people don't always get to see. New Jersey offers some world-class mountain biking that rivals anything else offered in the country. We look forward to offering a weekend of fun tracks, great racing and quality time well spent riding bikes .

In the past the Maxxis ESC have been offering EWS Qualifiers and hosted the inaugural EWS North American Championship Finals giving racers in the eastern USA a chance to qualify for the big show and it's worked out terrifically for the racers, venues and sponsors. The Maxxis ESC is honored to introduce Mountain Creek Bike Park to enduro racers across the country, the venue features surprising long race segments and while there is a lift, most transfers are pedal in the backcountry. In fact, most of the enduro race trails and transfers are located outside the "park". We are beyond stoked to host another round of the EWS NA Continental Championship Series and we'll also host an EWS Qualifier August at Killington VT on August 16th. So come out and get those valuable EWS points or come and spectate some of the best enduro racers in the county.

1.1 DETAILS

For the past 10 years the Maxxis Eastern States Cup has been ensuring the future of gravity mountain bike racing on the East Coast. The Maxxis ESC has hosted USA Cycling ProGRT's, EWS Continental Championships, EWS Qualifiers and the Race the World DH events during the Windam World Cup. Continuing our mission we will once again be back at Mountain Creek for their rocky goodness.

Nestled into the foothills of the Appalachian mountain range in the northern most corner of New Jersey, Mountain Creek packs a punch well beyond its 1,400 foot elevation would have you think. Known for its classically east-coast technical terrain and square-edged rock gardens, Mountain Creek has long been a staple destination on the Northeast race scene since the resort first opened to Mountain Biking in 1999. The birthplace of the US Open of Mountain Biking and a regular on the USA Cycling ProGRT and Maxxis Eastern States Cup calendars, Mountain Creek consistently delivers race courses that challenge and satisfy even the most seasoned racers.

For the Continental Championships Mountain Creek will be putting together a 6 stage race that utilizes all of the resorts 4 interconnected mountain peaks. This event will give racers the opportunity to ride terrain typically not accessible to the Bike Park guests and stages will be designed to challenge both racers fitness and bike handling skills across a variety of terrain.

1.2 RACE FORMAT
